Low Observable (Stealth) Material & Surface Treatment. Anti- Magnetic .

Our patrol boat gains a significant advantage with low observable (stealth) materials and surface treatment. Combined with anti-magnetic features, these assets enable covert operations, reducing detection risks. The boat becomes a formidable force, enhancing its ability to navigate undetected and effectively respond to threats in critical maritime environments.

Surface drives for shallow waters.

Surface drives offer a substantial advantage to our high-speed patrol boat, particularly in shallow waters. These propulsion systems provide enhanced maneuverability and increased speed, allowing the vessel to swiftly navigate through restricted areas. With the ability to operate efficiently in shallow depths, our patrol boat maintains its effectiveness in diverse coastal environments, ensuring optimal performance during critical missions.
